As a Scrum Master, you push the boundaries, challenge the “norm”, and promote bold thinking everyday. Though it feels amazing to guide your team towards success, it can be overwhelming...
If you’re constantly reacting to the needs of your team, but struggling to keep on top of your own initiatives, you need to go back to basics:

Review, Refine & Prioritise — but this time do it with your own backlog.
Make your vision EPICS, your ideas USER STORIES, and your plan a prioritised backlog. Live and breath the tools and principles that you teach!
